Balochi Culture and Poetry

The history of Balochi language and literature is primarily composed of poetry, which has been used to transmit the history of Baloch tribes and tales of bravery through generations. Significant examples of this historic and literary heritage include the tales of Hani-Sheh Murid, Mir Beuragh and Granaz, and Shahdad and Mahnaz. The classical period featured several eminent poets, including Mir Chakar Khan Rind, Sheh Murid, Mir Beuragh, Mir Shahdad Rind, Mir Jamal Rind, and Shah Mubarak. Following the creation of Pakistan, the language began to flourish; a standard script was devised using modified Urdu alphabets, the Balochi Deewan was composed in 1951, and the Balochi Academy was established in 1959. Monthly journals like "Oman" and "Olas", along with the weekly "Deer", began publication, while the Balochi Department at Balochistan University continues to play an important role in research.

Pashtu Language and Culture

Pashto is an ancient Indo-Arian language. Its ancient origin is mentioned in the Vedas and Maha Bharat.

Scholars suggest it originated in the "Bakht or Baakht" area of Afghanistan, leading to speakers being called "Bakhtoon" (later Pakhtoon or Pashtoon).

In Pakistan, speakers are primarily found in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Province and northern parts of Balochistan Province.

Dialects

Pashto has two major dialects: Eastern and Western.

The difference lies in the pronunciation of the letter "ږ" (which sounds like kh/ gh or z). Those who use the kh/ gh sound speak the Khattak dialect (used in Dir, Swat, etc.).

Those who use the z sound speak the Yousafzai dialect (used by Durrani tribes, Waziristan, etc.).

The Kandahari dialect is considered the most moderate.

Literature

Literature started with poetry, despite the language's ancient history.

"Pata Khazana", written in the 8th century A.D., is considered the first Pashto book. Ameer Karor is regarded as the first Pashto poet.

Saifullah, during Mahmood Ghaznavi's reign, formally devised the Pashto alphabets used today.

Eminent poets include Khushal Khan Khattak (1613-1691), known for diverse themes like patriotism, love, and bravery, and Rahman Baba, whose poetry focuses on mysticism.

Folksongs, like Charbaita and Tapa, are a matchless heritage.

Prose literature grew significantly in the 20th century, especially after the creation of Pakistan.

Eminent modern writers from Balochistan include Abid Shah Abid, Saeed Gohar, and Ubaidullah Darwesh.

The Pashto Academy was established in Peshawar in 1954 (and similarly in Quetta) to promote the language, and the University of Balochistan offers teaching and research departments.

Brahui Language and Culture

Origin: Brahui is an ancient language, primarily associated with the Dravidian language family by many linguists. Some scholars also link it to Indo-European or Indo-Aryan languages.

Location: The majority of its speakers live in the Bolan, Sarawan, Jhalawan, and Makran areas of Balochistan, as well as parts of Sindh Province.

Script & Dialects: It is typically written in the Persio-Arabic script and has four major dialects: Sarawani, Jhalawani, Noshkai, and Sindhi.

Literature: While its literary work was nominal until the 17th century A.D. due to nomadic movements, a rich folk literature exists, including the well-known story "Laili Moor".

Key Literary Works & Figures:

"Tuhfa-tul-Ajaib": Considered the first authentic Brahui book, composed by Malik Dad in the 18th century.

Later contributors include Maulana Nabbo Jan and Maulana Muhammad Umar Deenpoori.

Eminent modern writers include Dr. Abd-ur-Rahman Brahui, Noor Muhammad Parwana, and Nadir Qambrani.

Promotion: The Brahui Academy, Quetta, and the Brahui Department, University of Balochistan, are key institutions promoting the language.

Sindhi Language

Origin: The Sindhi language is mainly derived from Turkish, Dravidian, and Sanskrit languages. It is an Indo-Aryan language.

Dialects: Lari, Kathyawarhi, Jogali, and Kachhi are famous dialects, but the standard one is "Sahtee".

Literature: The literature comprises fables, gunan, bait, sorthay, gatha, and dohray. A lot of work occurred during the 11th to 13th centuries, including books on Islamic jurisprudence and mysticism.

Key Poets: The contribution of mystic poets to the language's popularity is notable.

Shah Abdul Latif Bhitai: Considered the greatest poet of the Sindhi language, his poetry is based on folk lores, collected in his literary work called "Shah Jo Resalo".

Hazrat Sachal Sarmast and Shah Inayat Shaheed are also prominent

Punjabi Language

Origin & Dialects: Associated with ancient Dravidian languages, it has six dialects, with Majhi being the most popular (spoken in Northern Punjab, including Lahore).

Literature: Gained impetus through Muslim saints who made it the medium of their poetry.

Eminent Poets: Baba Farid Ganj-e-shakar, Shah Hussain, Sultan Bahu, Bhullay Shah, Waris Shah, Khwaja Ghulam Farid, and Hazrat Mian Muhammad Bakhsh.

Modern Poets: Munir Niazi, Ahmad Rahi, and Sharif Kunjah.

Genres: Remarkable poetic genres include Dhola, Mahiya, Lori, Bolyan, Kafi, and Dohe.

Seraiki Language

Origin & Names: An Indo-Aryan language, also known historically as Lehnda, Uchi, or Derawali, but "Seraiki" is now well-accepted.

Location: Spoken in central Pakistan on either side of the Indus River, predominantly in Southern Punjab districts like Multan, DG Khan, Bahawalpur, etc., and in parts of Sindh and Balochistan.

Eminent Poets: Hazrat Sachchal Sarmast and Hazrat Ghulam Farid.

Modern Development: Novels, short stories, and dramas are now being written in this language.

Other Languages

Approximately 75 other languages exist in Pakistan.

Hindko: Common in Abbotabad, Mansehra, Haripur, Peshawar, and Attok districts.

Kashmiri: Mainly spoken in Azad Kashmir; researchers link it to Indus Valley languages.

Minor Languages: Shina, Boroshaski, Khwar, Balti, Dari, Hazargi, Potohari, Lasi, and Makrani are also present.

- (b) 20%
- (c) 80%
- (d) 55%

Irrigated means to supply crops with water through what kind of means? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Direct natural rain
- (b) Wells only
- (c) Artificial means
- (d) Springs only

Pakistan's population has been doing what since independence? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Decreasing
- (b) Stagnating
- (c) Rapidly increasing
- (d) Slowly increasing

With the increase in population, there is a need for: (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) More housing
- (b) More industry

- (c) More food
- (d) All

In Pakistan, per acre yield is very low as compared to: (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) India
- (b) China
- (c) Afghanistan
- (d) Many other countries of the world

Which method of farming is listed as a constraint to high yield? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Modern machinery
- (b) Chemical fertilizers
- (c) Use of traditional farming methods
- (d) Improved seeds

To enhance the productivity of land, what measures are being taken? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Ignoring chemical fertilizers
- (b) Sticking to traditional methods
- (c) Not using agricultural medicines
- (d) Use of Chemical Fertilizer, Machinery, and Improved Seeds (All listed as reforms)

Crops with high per acre yield require what kind of feed? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Organic manure
- (b) Natural fertilizers
- (c) Greater feed which the chemical fertilizer only can provide
- (d) Less feed

How many million metric tonnes was the production of chemical fertilizers in

Pakistan during 2017-18? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) 0.1 million metric tonnes
- (b) 6 million metric tonnes
- (c) 5 million metric tonnes
- (d) 1 million metric tonnes

How many million metric tonnes of chemical fertilizers were imported in 2017-18? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) 6 million metric tonnes
- (b) 0.1 million metric tonnes
- (c) 5 million metric tonnes
- (d) 1 million metric tonnes

Owing to the importance of chemical fertilizer, the government gives what to the farmers? (Source; 10th class book, BBISE)

- (a) Loans
